ELIMINATE PIRACY

Dear readers and Booksellers,

We would like to bring a matter of great importance to your urgent notice. Though possession of pirated copies is a cognizable and non-bailable offence, punishable by law, and carries stiff penalties including imprisonment it continues to thrive in markets, bookshops and photocopy shops. This is a matter of great concern for all of us in the education and publishing community. Let us all do our best in combating this crime against creation and spread of knowledge.

Your co-operation in this regard shall help publishing industry in combating piracy and facilitate the continued availability of books of quality production at economical prices.

RELEVANT PORTIONS OF THE COPYRIGHT ACT, 1975 ARE GIVEN BELOW FOR YOUR REFERENCE

INFRINGEMENT OF COPYRIGHT

The owner of the copyright has the exclusive right in respect of reproduction of the work and such other acts which enables the owner to get the financial benefits by exercising such rights. If any of these acts relating to the work is carried out by a person other than the owner without a license from the owner or competent person/authority under the Copyright Act 1957, it constitutes infringement of copyright in the work.

PIRACY

It is a kind of illegal activity which has been caused by rapid technological advancement. Latest techniques of photocopying and printing have made it easy to produce unauthorized copies of a book within a short span of time at a relatively low cost on a large scale. This offence deprives the author of the work from getting his legitimate due and ultimately hampers the growth of original and creative work by the pursuit of hard work, intellectual skills; and national economy as well.

COPYRIGHT LEGISLATION

The Copyright Act, 1975 was first amended in 1984 to incorporate anti-piracy legislation to check widespread piracy of books, etc and it has been made a cognizable and non-bailable offence. The punishment for various offences has been enhanced by amending sections 63 and 65 and also by inserting new sections 63A and 63B.

SECTION 63A

Any person who knowingly infringes or abets the infringement of the copyright work shall be punishable with:

- I. Imprisonment for a term which shall be less than 6 months but which may be extended up to 3 years;
- II. Fine of not less than Rs. 50,000/- but up to Rs. two lakhs.

SECTION 63A

The quantum of enhanced penalty on second subsequent conviction shall be:

- I. Imprisonment of not less than 1 year but up to 3 years;
- II. Fine of not less than Rs. 1,00,000/- but up to rupees two lakhs.

SECTION 63B

The quantum penalty for the offence of knowing use of infringing copy of computer program shall be:

- I. Imprisonment for not less than 7 days but up to 3 years;
- II. Fine of not less than Rs. 50,000/- but up to rupees two lakhs.

NOTE

More powers have been given to the police for prompt action and speedy apprehension of the offender by amending section 64, as any police officer below the rank of sub-inspector may seize without warrant all infringing copies or the work if he is satisfied that the offence is under section 63 in any respect.
